The perfect
Synergy for face & body

100%

Italian Expertise

G. Trading, which has always been operating in the world of aesthetics medicine and beauty, provides concrete solutions for any need and any imperfection by acting with excellent results on any kind of problem. The new product for an effective reshaping action is called So Up 4.0. A latest-generation multifunctional device that employs a mix of effective slimming and toning technologies for face and body.

Thanks to the special handpieces, the energies can be used either together or individually. So Up 4.0 provides to the body a slimming, elasticising, toning, shaping and draining action by eliminating toxins and fatty acids, by countering sagging skin and reducing accumulations of fat, stretch marks and cellulite.

On the face, the energies of So Up 4.0 activate the fibroblasts (producers of collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid), improving the thickness, hydration, tonicity and tone loss of the skin and reducing fine lines through a natural and soft denaturation of the collagen proteins which shrink and thicken the dermis (lifting effect).

A perfect choice

among the most effective energies

1. Radiofrequency

Regenerating Action

Radiofrequency employs the principles of diathermy, which allows a vasodilation and increased oxygenation to the tissues. It accelerates the cellular metabolism and stimulates the production of Collagen, Elastin and Hyaluronic acid, making the skin more elastic and compact. The RF benefits are enhanced both to the face and the body through specific hand probes.

2. Ultrasound

Slimming Action

With the ability to reach the deeper layers of the tissues, the 1 Mhz Ultrasound weakens the adipose structure, stimulates the reactivation of microcirculation and gradually reduce flabby, edematous or fibrous cellulite, thereby toning the body as a result.

3. Endo massage

Draining Action

The Endodermic Massage treatments counter cellulite, sagging skin and are effective in case of water retention. Specific applicators are used to perform, either simultaneously or individually, draining, reshaping, slimming treatments through a rhythmic massage both in automatic and manual model. The handpiece uses the action of rollers or spheres, interchangeable, according to the imperfections to be treated.

4. Low level laser treatments

Stimulating Action

LLLT laser act on the skin: due to the effects of photo-stimulation, and metabolic activation, the various treatments performed in synergy with LLLT laser increase their toning and firming action and significantly reshape the figure. The skin tissue will appear visibly more tonic, compact and hydrated.

5. Electroporation

Intensifying action

Electroporation is a transdermal transmission technique that acts directly on cellular mechanisms by means of special dynamic currents, waveforms and frequencies, which allows and helps to open up channels in the dermis to better and deeply convey the active principles applied, which are chosen accordingly to the imperfections to be treated.

6. Electrolipolysis

Toning Action

Electrolipolysis is a technique that can provide a targeted action on cellulite. It develops a tonic and stimulating action, as well as helping reduce cellulite deposits, as it promotes local circulation by increasing the metabolic demand of the cells resulting in an increased consumption of fat.

7. Chrome frequency

Warming/Rebalancing Action

The Chrome treatment, integrated with the various energies applied, consists in irradiating areas of the body with a red light to provide greater relax for the customer and enhance the benefits of the treatments themselves.

Fractional facial RF

Deep Action

Electromagnetic waves cause the oscillation of the water molecules, transforming electromagnetic energy into thermal energy (heat). This generates heat in the treated area and the formation of new collagen which support fibers and "fill" the skin from the inside. The intense heat generates a controlled volumetric heating, acts on the tissues containing water molecules, facilitating the stimulation of collagen fibers, with ensuing skin firmness. It enables an immediate "stretching" of the skin and a gradual stimulation of the collagen fibers.

Fractional RF for stretch marks

Elasticising action

FRF is an effective technology which can work on more important imperfections too. By using a specific hand probe, FRF can be a powerful ally on stretch-marks too, rebuilding the tissues fibers in the dermis.

Revolutionary Handpieces

So Up 4.0 employs revolutionary ergonomic handpieces that are unique and innovative. They can generate targeted synergies to solve the imperfections of wrinkles, cellulite, fat and sagging skin. The energies employed are the result of years of studies on the transmission of active ingredients and have all a stimulating action. Moreover, the targeted diodic Laser is an excellent adjuvant in countering fat deposits and cellulite thanks to its photo-stimulating properties.
